

CHICKENISTS TO CONVEENE TODAY

Arizona Poultry Association to Prepare to Send Big Delegation with Birds to Annual Meeting in Tucson This Winter.

The September meeting of the Arizona Poultry Association is to be held this afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce. Plans for holding the annual association show will be completed. The show this year is to be held in Tucson, some time in December, and the members are desirous of sending a large number of birds from the Salt River Valley.

In addition to the regular business of the association there will be an interesting program of timely poultry topics.

Mrs. Donnelly of Phoenix will read a paper on the "Care of the Pullets." "Disposing of the Old Hens" will be the subject to be handled by J. F. Warner of Tempe.

There will be other speakers on the program, and a very interesting meeting is promised. The meeting is open to all who are interested in "better poultry and more of it."

FLAGSTAFF COMPANY TO CASH THEIR PAPER

Solution of Appropriation Muddle Is Found When Local Bank Offers to Take Care of Auditor's Paper

A solution of the cashing of the certificates issued by State Auditor Callaghan in payment of the services rendered by the First Regiment has been reached in Flagstaff, where the officials of the Arizona Central Bank have taken it upon themselves to cash and hold them without discount.

In making it known to the commandant of the Flagstaff company, that they would take care of the certificates, the officers, said that it was from a feeling of patriotism and with motives that had to do with the advancement of the national defense that they would cash the certificates.

The militia movement in the northern town has been given a great impetus by the donation of two lots, by Dr. R. O. Raymond, to be used for the erection of an armory.

UNITED STATES NOW

of this depreciation, Italy some time ago cancelled orders for millions of bushels of American wheat and sent buyers to Argentina for grain which otherwise would have been purchased here.

Great Britain and France, it said, seriously contemplated the possibility of having to go to South America for grain and meats to an extent much greater and at present are turning to Egypt for cotton. Munitions of war they must buy in the United States, because there is no other market, but these, it is said, form only a minor fraction of the total exports, and can be paid in gold for a long time to come. From authoritative sources it was learned tonight that not only Great Britain and France contemplated a heavy reduction here, but decided a reduction was the only alternative left should the commission fail in its mission to the United States.

DRY ISSUE TO MINNEAPOLIS

Under the county option law of Minnesota, Hennepin county, in which is the city of Minneapolis is to vote October 4 next on the question of banishing saloons from within its borders.

Minneapolis has a population of approximately 350,000. No American city of the size of Minneapolis has as yet voted on the question of excluding saloons. None of the states having statewide prohibition contain so large a city. The outcome of the election therefore will be of general interest throughout the country.

There are special reasons why the vote in favor of making all Hennepin county anti-saloon territory may be heavy. Minneapolis has a large proportion of its population of New England descent, and the old New England stock is supposed to be antagonistic to the saloon. Of the citizens of foreign birth or parentage the largest proportion is of Scandinavian origin, and the Scandinavians are considered more friendly to the prohibition idea than are those whose parentage is traced back to other European countries.

Aside from the worldwide tendency now in evidence to restrict the liquor traffic, there is in Minneapolis a strong political opposition to the liquor interests. Many persons who are not prohibitionists in principle are going to vote against saloons on October 4, as a protest against the evil influence of the saloon in politics.

BARKER'S PLANT GROWS IN HIS ABSENCE WEST

J. F. Barker of the Barker Produce company, returned yesterday morning from a three weeks' vacation on the coast at the fair and resorts. While he was away, his organization completed the new additions to the institution at 35 West Jefferson. The big cold storage rooms are now in working order. The additional packing and shipping facilities are meeting anticipated requirements.

REQUEST FOR RECALL

kind against the editor of a Hungarian newspaper in this country from whom a memorandum was enclosed in the Dumba letter outlining carefully the prepared plans for putting into effect a scheme for handling the munitions plants. There is no official intimation that another communication is on the way from Berlin but the American reply to the note on the Arabic will be delayed until officials can learn whether to expect anything additional from Berlin. It may be stated, however, if nothing comes in the nature of a modification of Germany's explanation the American note will reach Berlin, probably early next week which will set forth the views of the United States in a brief and unmistakable manner. Germany's declaration that while she regrets the operations of the submarines she admitted no liability or indemnity even if the submarine commander was mistaken in believing the Arabic was about to attack him and especially the offering to arbitrate the principle, is regarded in official circles as leaving the whole submarine question practically where it was left by the Berlin government's unresponsive attitude toward the Lusitania negotiations. In the remarkable contravention of favorable view which the state department has been led to take by the statement of the German ambassador.

The president spent much of today going over the German note. No official comment was made by the state department but the disappointment of the officials was undisguised. The latest turn in the submarine controversy has almost overshadowed the Dumba case. It is quite probable that until the Vienna foreign office replies to the request for the withdrawal of Dumba nothing further will be done in his case, nor the cases of Von Papan and Nuber. If the receipt of documentary evidence bears out the information now in the hands of the state department officials will not be surprised to see both men withdrawn by their home governments or as a final resort, dismissed from this country.

The fact that Von Papan's letter was a personal one does not alter the situation. It is pointed out that Lord Sackville-West's personal letter on the political situation resulted in his recall from the British embassy here.

Secretary Lansing said that while the department had no official information on Von Papan's case, it is regarded the use of an American passport for the carrying of any sort of communication through the lines of the belligerents as an abuse of that document.

A copy of the German note on the Arabic as received at the state department varied from the copy cabled to the Associated Press from Germany only in that the former said the submarine stopped the English steamer Dunsley about sixty nautical miles south of Kinsale instead of sixteen. Otherwise the two copies are pronounced by state department officials as identical.

SLIGHTLY DIFFERENT

"That second speaker was quite extraordinary." "I thought his speech was about the dullest I ever heard."

"His speech didn't amount to anything, but he failed, when he got up, to say that the toastmaster's introductory remarks reminded him of a story."—New York Sun.

FINANCES and MARKETS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—International and Washington developments acted as main deterrents to the speculative sentiment. Stocks opened with moderate declines, but recovered almost immediately, only to fall back at midday. They dashed there listlessly until the final hour, when bearish activities and renewal of foreign selling became effective to the extent of causing net losses of from one to two points in investment issues, with greater losses in volatile specialties. War shares were inclined to new high flights. Bethlehem Steel made a maximum advance of ten points to a new record of 335; general motors rose eight points to 281, also a new record, and Crucible Steel and Studebaker came within a fractional proximity of their best quotations.

United States Steel was fairly steady at first, and later lost on publication of the August tonnage figures showing a decrease of 220,000 tons unfilled orders, together with a statement that the government intends to proceed with the prosecution of that corporation. Total sales amounted to 540,000 shares.

Demand sterling rose to $4.69. Par value of sales represented $3,150,000. United States coupon registered 33 declined one-fourth per cent. on call.
